The Malawi University of Science and Technology (MUST) is pleased to announce names of candidates who have been selected to pursue various undergraduate degree programmes at the University for the 2026/27 academic year under the FAWEMA Bridging Programme. In total, 88 candidates have been selected under the FAWEMA Bridging Programme to pursue various Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM)-related programmes across the Academy of Medical Sciences (AMS), Malawi Institute of Technology (MIT), and Ndata School of Climate and Earth Sciences (NSCES). Out of the total selected candidates, 60 (68%) are females and 28 (32%) are males.

Selection of candidates was conducted through a competitive selection process based on merit and in accordance with the Malawi Government policy on admission of students into public higher education institutions. The selection process considered candidates' academic performance, programme requirements, STEM subject combinations, candidate choices, and available spaces in each programme. Affirmative action considerations on gender, disability, and other equity considerations were also taken into account during the selection process.

The selected candidates will pursue various undergraduate degree programmes in areas including health sciences, information technology, computing, food science, mathematical sciences, education sciences, climate and earth sciences, water quality management, and disaster risk management. The public is further advised that successful candidates will receive information regarding reporting dates, orientation, registration requirements, fees, and other joining instructions through official University communication channels.
